MAJOR MOVES

Indiana remains the only state in the nation with a fully-funded 10-year transportation and infrastructure plan. The northeast Indiana region is scheduled to receive $659,959,927, or approximately 17.5 percent of the Major Moves money.

The major new construction projects include plans for additional lanes on Interstate 69 (north Allen County and at US 20 in Steuben County), and a brand new US 24 that connects Interstate 469 to US 24 at the Ohio state line. The Interstate 469 to US 24 or "Fort to Port" project will meet a brand new US 24 in Ohio creating a four-lane highway that connects Fort Wayne to Toledo and the Toledo-Lucas County Port. Major preservation or resurfacing is also planned for Interstate 469.
